My husband and I are most happy and pleased to highly recommend “Flavour”!

They are a dynamic duo consisting of Bryne Donaldson on saxophone and Lawrence Ross on keyboards. Playing for our wedding in October 2015 was a delight. Their jazzy/swinging style was exactly what we were looking for. We took the opportunity to attend several of their events during the year and felt them to be a perfect fit for our special occasion. Those audiences always left wanting more!

For our wedding ceremony itself, “Flavour” played the entire processional with different entrance themes never missing a beat. The highlight was my entry where they had to coordinate with a vocalist singing a song of our choice. Additionally, the duo played at the most memorable times during the reception. Their special rendition during the garter removal part was a pleasing surprise receiving a standing ovation.

Individually, Byrne’s love of music and his caring heart allows him the ability to cater to the client’s needs. Lawrence is a keyboard artist who can arrange, sing, and play whatever is needed no matter the occasion. We look forward to attending many of their future events.

Again, I say that we wholeheartedly endorse and highly recommend “Flavour”, a dynamic twosome, for anyone looking to enhance their wedding or any other musical experience.

Thank you Bryne and Lawrence!

Mr./Mrs. Withers

When my wife and I were putting together our wedding, there were many decisions to be made. Where, rings, colors, invitations - well, lots of decisions. This is made simpler if you keep in mind the goal - our wedding was to be a celebration of our discovery, happiness and joy with one another. A combining of two families and by extension their families. An opportunity for the extended families, and friends to meet in a comfortable and happy place.

Of all the decisions made, the simplest was the entertainment. I have known Bryne for several years and consider him the finest sax player I know, with a large dose of personality and panache! Lawrence brings everything else to the table for their group Flavour. The group was a huge hit at the wedding, they were perfect. In the background when necessary and up front and center at the right moments. Their music and music selection kicked off the reception beautifully with tunes that were familiar but with Flavour's own sense of style. They gave us our comfortable place and so many great memories.

Thank you Bryne and Lawrence for helping make a special night - spectacular!!
